THE TURKEY TAIL 1970

Volume XXIII

Editor: Frances Whitener; Circulation Managers: Judy Orders, Sharon Elliott; Business Managers: Betty Woods, Betsy Gibbs.

The 1970 Turkey Tail is dedicated to a man who through his years at Glen Alpine has given unselfishly of his time to the instruction and guidance of the many Freshmen, which each year enter his classroom. He has worked with the Student Council for the betterment of the school and has endeavored to understand the problems of the students.

Because of his unfailing interest in the school and in the students, we, the annual staff of 1970, with pride and deep appreciation, dedicate this, the 1970 Turkey Tail, to Mr. David Blinson.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

I, Denise Anderson, leave my clarinet to Anita Dale.

I, Ricky Auldredge, would like to leave my "dear 'ole locker #79" to anyone who wants it!

I, Pat Beach, leave to join my husband.

I, Barbara Berry, leave my marching and rifle to Pam McFalls.

I, Becky Brewer, leave to be with Bobby.

I, Archie Browning, leave my bus driving ability to anyone who wants it.

I, Brenda Burnette, leave old G.A.H.S. at last to become Jimmy Wright's bride.

I, Carolyn Carpenter, leave all my good times on band trips to Dorothy Lytle.

I, Larry Carpenter, leave my fourth period English class to Michael Ervin to do as he pleases.

I, Wayne Clontz, leave my statesman-like rhetoric to Lynn Curtis.

I, Nancy Cooke, leave Glen Alpine High School in high hopes of finding a husband.

I, Charles Cresawn, leave to sail the "wile blue yonder" for Uncle Sam in the U.S.A.F.

I, Robert Wesley Dale, leave old Glen Alpine High once again.

I, Susan Duckworth, leave my title as most likely to succeed to some lovely junior.

I, Elaine Elder, leave my position as color guard to some deserving underclassman.

I, Sharon Elliott, leave the service boys to anyone who wants to become a nervous wreck.

I, Dwight Farris, leave Jayne here for one more year.

I, Ellen Farris, leave my aspirin bottle to next year's paper staff editor.

I, Eugene Flowers, leave all my knowledge, good looks, and managing ability to some other lively manager.

I, Mike Fowler, leave my student body presidency to a deserving junior.

I, Betsy Gibbs, leave to become a fireman's woman.

I, Delores Greene, leave my typing ability to Phyllis Causby.

I, Paul Greene, leave my bomb-making in Physics to anyone dumb enough to try it.

I, Sylvia Greene, leave the third clarinets to Suzanne Courtney.

I, Margaret Hallstein, leave my northern accent to anyone who thinks he might make a good Yankee.

I, Ronald Hardin, leave French III to anyone dumb enough to take it.

I, Mary Hardy, leave my bookkeeping class and work to Libbie.

I, Elaine Harvey, leave my Rambler to anyone who wants it.

I, Steve Henry, leave my height to my little brother, Doug.

I, Janet Hildebrand, would like to leave my frown to any other new person that enters Glen Alpine High School.

I, Wayne Hipps, leave my reputation as a playboy to "Stinker" Powell.

I, Garry Holder, leave my fiendish pranks to some sneaky junior.

I, Donald Holland, leave to venture into a cruel world.

I, Henry Houk, leave, taking with me my nickname, "Burly."

I, Lela Hyatt, leave the green bench in the lobby to Mr. Gibbs.

I, L. D. Jaynes, leave what few good parts of "51" there are to Randy Biggerstaff.

I, Harold Johnson, leave my football shoes to another Johnson with flashy moves.

I, Billy Lane, leave my ability to handle teachers and girls and my little red Nova (which altogether ain't very much) to Mike Cloer.

I, Ann Leonard, leave G.A.H.S. in my little gold Maverick.

I, Susan Leonard, leave Glen Alpine High to be with Mike Orders for good.

I, Gene Lowdermilk, leave whatever I have to whoever can find it.

I, Connie Lytle, leave my ability to cut up in band without getting caught to Beverly Anderson.

I, Raymond McDowell, leave my "Coolest" to Harvey Summers.

I, Dab Marshall, leave G. A. to find a girl in Morganton with initials D. K. W.

I, Karen Maye, leave to be with my Oak Hill Bulldog, Roy Lowdermilk, "Ratgut."

I, Ray Merrill, leave my pole vault and G.T.O. to Bud Lowdermilk.

I, Doug Michaels, leave in my "240" with the fan belt screaming.

I, Henry Moore, leave my height to Columbus Carpenter.

I, Mike Moses, leave my fishing skill to Dan Garrison; he needs all the help he can get.

I, David S. Mull, leave my brain to science.

I, Ronnie Norman, leave Carolyn, sorrowfully!

I, Carlos Orders, leave all my sneaky tricks to Belinda Parks.

I, Harry Lee Orders, leave my ability to get along with teachers to some lucky junior.

I, Judy Orders, leave my position as President of the Anchor Club to Barbara Isaacs.

I, Kenny Patton, leave to join one who has gone on before.

I, Dianne Perkins, leave to marry into a rich family—hopefully!

I, Andy Pitts, leave my jokes to Mike Huffman.

I, Sandra Pitts, leave uniforms, fire batons, and all the headaches of head majorette to Nedia and Dede.

I, Vic Poteat, leave my intelligence, good looks, and charm in the shoe box where it has been for the last 12 years.

I, Susan Pressley, leave my morning conversations to a talkative junior.

I, Butch Queen, leave G.A.H.S. to Dennis.

I, Patricia Ramsey, leave my intelligence to some brainy junior.

I, Randy Sisk, leave my halfback position to Dean McFalls.

I, Alan Scott, leave, hopefully!

I, Bruce Smith, just leave.

I, Connie Staver, leave my position as chewing gum distributor to anyone who can afford it.

I, Mae Stillwell, leave my position as a senior to Debra Hennessee.

I, Debra Tate, leave my "Soul" to Lorraine Rutherford.

I, Betty Jo Taylor, leave??!

I, Venice Thomas, leave all my cool soul talk and traveling to Barbara Jean Tate.

I, Maxine Wallace, leave my ability to take shorthand dictation at one hundred words per minute to Barbara Wallace.

I, Frances Whitener, leave the annual worries to David Melton and Marie Miller, and my drum majorette's backache to some brave and less nervous junior.

I, David Winters, leave to make Debbie Mull happy for the rest of her life.

I, Sarah Wise, leave for better things beyond (Marlow), but everything left at G.A.H.S. goes to Ginger, my kid sister.

I, Betty Woods, leave French III to anyone dumb enough to take it next year.

CLASS PROPHECY

Recently, while on a fishing expedition to Canada with PAUL GREENE, noted outdoorsman and conservationist, and DWIGHT FARRIS, sales representative for SCHUAT Enterprises, the talk turned to the good old days and the Class of '70. I decided to take a trip back to Glen Alpine and find exactly what had happened to the other members of the Class of '70.

On the Saturday afternoon Shuttle flight to Glen Alpine, I met JANET HILDEBRAN and BETSY GIBBS. They were employed as stewardesses for the transportation division of SCHUAT Enterprises. By the way, this corporation is one of the largest in the nation and the main reason for the tremendous growth of Glen Apline. Most of the top people in the corporation come from the Class of '70.

VIC POTEAT is chief engineer in charge of construction, while MIKE FOWLER is in charge of the electronic's division. BRUCE SMITH is in charge of the complex system of computers. Legal secretary for the firm is ELAINE HARVEY. Her assistants are BECKY BREWER, and DELORES GREENE.

The trip from New York to Glen Alpine lasted only thirty minutes. This was due to the advanced system of Shuttles devised by HENRY MOORE, the famed scientist, which has now made airplanes and the confusion they made obsolete. As I got off at the receiving center, I was greeted by chief hostess MAE STILLWELL. I was introduced to her staff: hostesses DIANNE PERKINS, SUSAN PRESSLEY, and BARBARA BERRY; and secretaries NANCY COOKE and MAXINE WALLACE.

Inside the terminal were the offices of many smaller businesses. Just inside the door was the office of R. W. DALE, Accountant. MARGARET HALLSTEIN and CAROLYN CARPENTER were two of the employees. Next door was the office of BUTCH QUEEN, one of the most influential agents in the entertainment business. Here, I was lucky enough to meet actresses ELAINE ELDER and DENISE ANDERSON, and VENICE THOMAS, one of the popular new dancers.

Upon leaving the terminal, I decided to visit the new school. On the way, I stopped by a new shopping center where I happened to meet DAB MARSHALL, owner of a large new chain of grocery stores. Also in the shopping center I found the modern gas station owned by STEVE (Toothpick) HENRY. Here, I also met WAYNE HIPPS and his assistant MIKE HOOD, officials of the Glen Alpine Oil Company. When I arrived at the school, I met: HARRY ORDERS, the principal; FRANCES WHITENER, music teacher; and DEBORAH TATE, an elementary teacher.

It was getting late, so I decided to go down to the race track for a little excitement. On my arrival, I discovered BILLY LANE, manager of the track, and promoters DONALD HOLLAND, DAVID WINTERS and DOUG MICHAELS. The race was a real battle down to the wire. It was won by the skillful team of MIKE MOSES and L. D. JAYNES along with their pit crew: ARCHIE BROWNING, HENRY HOUK, ALAN SCOTT, and RAYMOND McDOWELL.

On the way back to the hotel, I stopped by the Club Risque, owned and operated by RAY MERRILL and RONNIE NORMAN. While I was waiting for the waitress to bring my dinner, I saw local playboy, DAVID MULL, and KENNY PATTON, one of the new breed of song writers and poets. I also met SANDRA PITTS, a well-known fashion model. At the table next to mine was football hero and playboy HAROLD JOHNSON, along with GENE LOWDERMILK, of the Green Bay Packers.

The following day, I got off to an early start to see the rest of my former classmates. First, I visited WAYNE CLONTZ, pastor of the First Methodist Church. While I was there, several members of the Local P.T.A. stopped by. They were: LAVONE STAVER, CARLOS ORDERS; SARAH WISE, and SUSAN LEONARD, president of the organization. Across the street lay the beautiful mansion owned by noted philanthropist, ANN LEONARD. I went over to say hello and was lucky enough to see some of the well-known ladies of the community who were over for a bridge party. They were: SYLVIA GREENE, KAREN MAYE, SUSAN DUCKWORTH, and SHARON ELLIOTT.

It was getting close to the time for my departure, so I decided to stop by the barber and beauty shop for a manicure. I stopped at the shop owned by BRENDA BURNETTE and operated by BETTY JO TAYLOR. Here I also noticed some familiar faces: JUDY ORDERS, noted literary critic; CONNIE LYTLE, dental assistant; BETTY WOODS, medical technologist, and LELA HYATT, a local roller skating artist. As I was leaving, I met PATRICIA RAMSEY, private secretary to Governor ANDY PITTS.

Back at the Shuttle, I recognized several familiar faces among the people from the incoming flight. They were: GARRY HOLDER, famous astronaut and space explorer; RICKY AULDREDGE, of the U. S. Air Force; CHARLES CRESAWN, distinguished naval officer; and MARY HARDY, who had just returned from one of her many trips. The pilot of the flight was LARRY CARPENTER and stewardesses were ELLEN FARRIS, LESLIE SMITH and PAT BEACH. I bought my ticket at a desk where CONNIE STAVER and MARY CHAPMAN were hard at work.

As I went to board the flight back to New York, I heard the roar of a motorcycle engine and turned just in time to get a glimpse of RANDY SISK, leaving on one of his cross-country adventures. I got on the Shuttle and was fortunate enough to find EUGENE FLOWERS, who was on construction company business in New York. I could now enjoy my flight back, for I knew that I had met all of my former classmates.
